EMBODY

Piloted by movement and whole-body engagement and dialogue, this shared game of trading and transforming avatars aims to leave players with a deep feeling of physical embodiment and surprise at their bodies' forgotten potential.

Lead Artists: Melissa Painter, Thomas Wester, Siân Slawson

EMERGENCE

Enter an open-world environment, expressing the primal desire to maintain your individual identity whilst being part of a crowd. Showing over five thousand intelligent human behaviors, this powerful VR experience is made possible by advanced graphics technology.

Lead Artist: Matt Pyke

GLOOMY EYES

1983, Woodland City. Being a zombie is against the law. Like all of his kind, young Gloomy is hiding in the forest, away from bounty hunters. But Gloomy is different. While bitterness plagues the city, he strives to find a balance in his mysterious dual nature.

Lead Artists: Jorge Tereso, Fernando Maldonado

A JESTER'S TALE

Experience the viscerality of a psychologically taxing children's fable merging with the physicality of our world, as you come home cold and tired, just in time for a bedtime story. In this interactive augmented reality narrative the characters are just hollow meshes, but maybe so are you.

Lead Artist: Asad J. Malik

REACH

A next-generation VR photobooth allowing attendees to step inside the story. Users can be captured in dimensionalized video, placed into one of several "walk around" environments, and automatically create a volumetric VR experience that can be viewed on any device and shared online.

Lead Artists: Nonny de la Peña, Chaitanya Shah, Hannah Eaves, Cedric Gamelin

RUNNIN'

This interactive dance experience takes the player on a journey of musical expression. Play along with the music in an intimate neighborhood record store and be transported to a retro-future dance party. Show off your moves on the dance floor alongside a troupe of dancers.

Lead Artists: Reggie Watts, Kiira Benzing

SWEET DREAMS

An invitation to the meal of your dreams. But will it remain a dream, forever out of reach? Drawing on mythological archetypes, the project turns a fine-dining experience into a playful exploration of the destructive nature of our appetite and our debt to pleasure.

Lead Artists: Robin McNicholas, Ersin Han Ersin, Barnaby Steel, Nell Whitley

TRAVELING WHILE BLACK

Confronting the way we understand and talk about race in America, this virtual reality documentary immerses the viewer in the long history of restriction of movement for black Americans and the creation of safe spaces in our communities.

Lead Artists: Roger Ross Williams, Félix Lajeunesse, Paul Raphaël, Ayesha Nadarajah

POWER OF STORY

The Power of Story series looks to deepen public engagement with storytelling, explore cinema culture, and celebrate artists whose work propels the form.

MAKERS OF THE NEW NARRATIVE REVOLUTION

#PowerOfStory

Saturday, January 26, 2:30 p.m.—4:00 p.m.
Egyptian Theatre, 328 Main St.
Ticket required

Bolstered by the breathtaking palate of emerging media, visionary artists are deviating from forms and norms and reinventing storytelling as we know it. In looking at the tantalizing futurescape of story (encompassing visual arts; virtual, augmented, and mixed realities; immersive theatrical experiences; social art practices; and forms we haven't yet contemplated), we explore a range of inspirations, the changing nature of artistic discovery, the necessity of invention, and how culture stands to be dramatically reshaped by revolutionary, new narrative experiences. Terence Nance (As Told To G/D Thyself, Random Acts of Flyness), Reggie Watts (Runnin', Waves), John Gaeta (senior vice president of creative strategy, Magic Leap), Stephanie Dinkins (Not the Only One), and Sarah Ellis (The Seven Ages of Man; director of digital development, Royal Shakespeare Company) explore the value of independence and an artist's imperative.

PUSHING BOUNDARIES

#PowerOfStory

Thursday, January 31, 2:30 p.m.—4:00 p.m.
Egyptian Theatre, 328 Main St.
Ticket required

In contemplating the complexities of the world, we have always looked to artists and storytellers to challenge our thinking and shake us from complacency. That's particularly true of fiercely independent artists who maintain the freedom to shatter prevailing orthodoxies, reframe moral perspectives, and push the boundaries of accepted norms. They don't lead us to safety but away from it, out of our comfort zones.

We're joined by a group of exceptional, provocative filmmakers and artists—Rick Alverson (The Mountain), Mads Brügger (Cold Case Hammar skjöld), Kitty Green (Casting JonBenet), Penny Lane (Hail Satan?), and others—for a conversation about how their work pushes boundaries conceptually, formally, and morally.

AI: I LOVE YOU

#NewFrontier

Sunday, January 27, 11:30 a.m.—1:00 p.m.
The Box at The Ray, 1768 Park Ave.

Artificial intelligence in our day-to-day lives is shifting. Once typified by science-fiction writers, practical AI is now ever present in the searches we perform and the products we consume. Now AI gets much more personal, processing our words, tone, expression, senses, and gestures. Join Eleanor Whitley (Sweet Dreams); Stephanie Dinkins (Not the Only One); John Monos (head of human-centered AI at Magic Leap); and Google Empathy Lab's Danielle Krettek to explore how we might ensure that AI technologies lift us up and move us forward.

THE SECOND COMING OF AR

#NewFrontier

Monday, January 28, 11:30 a.m.—1:00 p.m.
The Box at The Ray, 1768 Park Ave.

Enthusiasm for augmented reality and mixed reality has been at a fever pitch this year. ARKit and ARCore have caused an explosion of developer activity, and many believe that the potential reach of AR is an order of magnitude greater than VR. Join Peter Flaherty (THE DIAL); Ted Schilowitz (Paramount Pictures Futurist in Residence); Alice Wroe (Magic Leap's Mica); and Artie's founder and CEO, Ryan Horrigan, in a discussion about the present of AR and what important technologies are on the horizon that may trigger the next wave.

THE BIODIGITAL CONTINUUM: REBOUNDED DIGITAL DEMOCRACY

#NewFrontier

Tuesday, January 29, 11:30 a.m.—1:00 p.m.
The Box at The Ray, 1768 Park Ave.

Plugged into our phones 24/7 is not a good look for any of us. But becoming technological teetotalers is not a practical option, as digital platforms continuously aid and abet our thoughts, needs, and even our identities. Join economist Douglas Rushkoff (Throwing Rocks at the Google Bus, Team Human), filmmaker/author Tiffany Shlain (Connected; founder, the Webby Awards), and filmmaker Jehane Noujaim (The Great Hack, The Square) in a high-tech fireside chat as they explore the relationship between digital platforms, democracy, and what it means to be a member of the human species.

ARTISTIC PRACTICE ON THE BLEEDING EDGE OF TECH

#NewFrontier

Thursday, January 31, 11:30 a.m.—1:00 p.m.
The Box at The Ray, 1768 Park Ave.

Among the most exciting things about New Frontier artists are the formal innovations and groundbreaking technologies they create in pursuit of artistic expression. Join Nonny de la Peña (REACH), Victor Morales (Esperpento), and Melissa Painter (Embody) as they discuss their artistic process; the rewards, potential, and challenges of storytelling using bleeding-edge technologies; and what brings them to the necessity of invention.

MAKING THE (IN)VISIBLE: RADICAL TRANSPARENCY IN THE DATA-DRIVEN AGE

#SFFInclusionData

Friday, January 25, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.
Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

Sundance Institute has partnered with the USC Annenberg Inclusion Initiative to publish a groundbreaking analysis of the race and gender of applicants and participants in all Sundance Film Festival programs. How can radical data transparency reveal systemic barriers to inclusion? Join Franklin Leonard, Stacy Smith, Lena Waithe, Nina Jacobson, and Karim Ahmad for a discussion of the data, its relevance to the field, and new models to advance equitable representation in film.

CAN ART SAVE DEMOCRACY?

#SFFForFreedoms

Saturday, January 26, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.
Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

In 2018, For Freedoms launched the 50 State Initiative—the largest creative collaboration in U.S. history—to catalyze civic engagement and public discourse through the arts. The program was based on Franklin D. Roosevelt's Four Freedoms: freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear. In this Sundance Institute/For Freedoms Town Hall, artists from For Freedoms, the Sundance Film Festival, and the Utah community will explore how culture is vital to an active, participatory, inclusive, and free democracy.

DEMOCRACY HACKED?

#SFFDemocracyHacked

Sunday, January 27, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.
Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

Is it possible to foster and protect democracy against the unprecedented triple threat of rampant inequality, the corrosion of public discourse, and the polarizing forces of the internet? In what has been called “a golden age of press harassment, domestic propaganda and coercive efforts to control political debate,” who comprises the fourth estate today—and are they part of the problem or the solution?

RESEEING THE PRESENT, REWRITING THE PAST

#SFFPastRewrite

Monday, January 28, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.
Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

For two particular U.S. populations, Native Americans and African Americans, the history of mainstream cinema has been one of erasure and misrepresentation. But that history is being rewritten and redressed, and that cinema is being challenged through radically reimagined aesthetics and upended storyforms. Join Tommy Orange (There There), RaMell Ross (Hale County This Morning, This Evening), Sky Hopinka (Fainting Spells), and others as they inscribe new ways of seeing and being seen into the future history of cinema.

THE NEW STORYTELLERS

#SFFNewStorytellers

Tuesday, January 29, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.
Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

With scientists employing a range of popular media platforms and storytellers finding imaginative new ways to render science narratives in film, television, and emerging media, have we entered a great new era of science communication—one that's finding fresh ways to spark popular imagination. A group of scientists and filmmakers will explore the surge in popular science narratives and captivating voices.

ADVENTURES IN INDIE EPISODIC

#SFFIndieEpisodic

Wednesday, January 30, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.
Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

As the episodic landscape continues to evolve, artists are pushing the boundaries of the form and creating groundbreaking work populated by unforgettable characters. Join Kyra Sedgwick (Girls Weekend), Deniese Davis (Issa Rae Productions), Sacha Jenkins (Wu-Tang Clan: Of Mics and Men), and others, with moderator Michelle Satter (Sundance Institute), for a conversation about getting from proof of concept to a series and how independent artists are reimagining the paradigm of episodic storytelling and audience engagement.

IMAGINING THE INDEPENDENT INTERNET

#SFFIndieInternet

Thursday, January 31, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.
Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

Many platforms designed to bring us together have torn us apart. Artists are among those forging new directions in real-world and virtual-world communities by harnessing powerful new technologies with the core values of autonomy, privacy, ownership, and independence. What is the future of the online community, and what promise or illusion does the blockchain offer artists seeking independence? Join Sundance Institute's Tara Hein-Phillips and guests to find out.

LEAPS OF FAITH

#SFFLeapsOfFaith

Friday, February 1, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.
Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

From snake-wielding Appalachian Pentecostals and real-life revolutionary Satanists to a Catholic near-future in Brazil, this year's Festival is filled with fiction and nonfiction films inhabiting religious worlds as a basis for telling the stories of our times. Join critic and journalist Alissa Wilkinson, filmmakers, and guests to explore why so many artists are taking these narrative leaps of faith and what they tell us about religion and cinema culture.

LIFE STORIES

#SFFLifeStories

Saturday, February 2, 2:00 p.m.—3:30 p.m.

Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

As fiction films draw upon the real world in increasingly inventive ways, and as documentaries incorporate fictional techniques to express the lived experience more imaginatively, we explore the challenges of creatively portraying the real lives of others in film. Where are the ethical boundaries? When are such biographical portraits acts of trespass, and when are they acts of transformative truth telling—and can they be both? Join Alma Har'el (Honey Boy), Benedetta Barzini (The Disappearance of My Mother), and others.

FILM CHURCH

#FilmChurch

Sunday, February 3, 10:30 a.m.—noon

Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd floor)

What could be more divine than 10 days of film watching? Finish off your Sundance Film Festival experience by sharing a near-spiritual moment with Festival director John Cooper and director of programming Kim Yutani, who will offer nondenominational talks of the Festival that was. Come confess your likes and dislikes. Joining us for the sermon will be a variety of special guests, including a few filmmakers who took home awards the night before (if they can be found the morning after!). All will be forgiven.

WHAT VR CAN LEARN FROM THEATRE AND FILM

Friday, January 25, 3:00 p.m.—4:30 p.m.

The Box at The Ray, 1768 Park Ave.

What happens when a traditional documentary filmmaker and a theatre troupe dip their toes into VR for the first time? How can classic forms of storytelling help make VR both meaningful and entertaining in ways traditional formats have perfected over centuries? Join Academy Award-winning director Roger Ross Williams, theatre director Tara Ahmadinejad (Piehole), and VR creators Sam Gorman (Tender Claws) and Félix Lajeunesse (Felix & Paul Studios) as they examine this convergence of forms that continues to elevate the craft of VR.

BEYOND THE TRANSITION NARRATIVE: TRANSGENDER STORYTELLING IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Tuesday, January 29, 4:30 p.m.—5:30 p.m.

Filmmaker Lodge, 550 Main St. (2nd Floor)

GLAAD continues the conversation about how to tell stories about transgender people that move beyond transition narratives and other tired tropes. Whether it's a rom-com or a heist caper, a sci-fi adventure or a horror film, writing characters that just happen to be trans will produce more adventurous and interesting trans narratives. This year, GLAAD and 5050by2020 published TRANSform Hollywood, a guide for media-content creators on how to break the cycle of reductive and simplistic trans stories. This panel, composed of creators involved in transgender storytelling in Hollywood, will keep the dialogue going on how to improve trans representation in film.
